Homework Policy

PRINCIPLES

Homework helps students by complementing and reinforcing what's being taught in the classroom, fostering lifelong learning while providing students with the opportunity to develop fundamental skills such as time management, organizational skills and responsibility.

Homework is another opportunity for parents to participate in their child's education. Parents, in partnership with the school, should encourage their children to establish good homework patterns from early primary school. However, it should be noted that preparation of students for the time commitment of future homework in years to come is not in itself a reasonable basis for setting homework.

GUIDELINES

Homework should-

- Support the development of the student's independence as a learner;

- Further the partnership between school and home;

- Avoid dependence on unreasonable levels of parental assistance or resources that are not readily available to the student;

- Be set without impinging on reasonable time for family, recreational, cultural and employment pursuits relevant to the student's age, development and educational aspirations;

- Be phased in gradually and consistently as students move through the school years;

- Be consistently applied and monitored. That is responsive to individual needs and learning area requirements;

- Daily home reading is highly recommended especially in Years 1 - 6.
